

Designer: Ella Tolladay

I am Ella Tolladay and I made and designed this dress for my textiles coursework. My original inspiration was the swinging sixties design brief. The target market is 18 to 23 year olds to be sold at music festivals. I thought the making was quite challenging but it got easier as the making went on. I am happy with my result but if I were to do it again I would maybe lower the neckline.

Alana Skilbeck said: "I think Ella's dress really suits the swinging sixties era. It is made to a high quality and the colour contrast well. I would defiantly buy it if it was sold at a festival.

Abi Robinson said: "I love Ella's dress; I think it reflects the sixties in its style incredibly well. I like the way only black and white are used to create an understated effect and yet create a contrast with the white lace on the black dress. Well done Ella 😊"
