

Designer: Sophie Winters

My name is Sophie Winters and I designed this product. My original inspiration was the 60's theme. I made it for the target group of young adults as I thought it would be easier to make it. In the end I found it quite hard as I got stuck working out what parts to sew together.

However it was worth all the hard work from the result. The possible changes or improvements I would make are adjusting the length to make it shorter. I would also improve the neckline as I don't like the style of it.

'Sophie's dress is a very good design to go with the 60's theme she had chosen.'

'This dress is very well designed and well made as the stitches and it looks like she has taken her time and effort on it.'
