

Homework Task

There are many different organisations working to help the natural world. Some of the most famous are Greenpeace, Friends of the Earth and The World Wildlife Fund for Nature. These organisations work tirelessly to raise the environmental awareness of individuals, businesses and governments all around the world.

These particular organisations would not attach themselves to one particular religion such as Christianity or Islam. Many people work for them from many different backgrounds. However, they share a common theme with Christians and Muslims: total respect for the world that we live in and determination to bring about a change for the better in the way we treat the world.

It is important that you have a good knowledge of ONE environmental organisation for your exam.

Your TASK...

You need to produce a information leaflet about an organisation that helps tackle environmental problems.

You can choose from:

- Greenpeace
- Friends of the Earth
- The World Wildlife Foundation
- The World Land Trust

In your leaflet you must include:

- When and why (and by whom) the organisation was set up?
- What the goals and aims of this organisation are - what do they hope to achieve?
- What current projects they are working on?
- What have they achieved?
- How does this organisation benefit the environment?

Your leaflet can be hand written or completed on the computer. It is essential this is completed to a high standard as it will form part of your revision.

This must be completed and handed in by Monday 17th October 2011
